organization dedicated to supporting, promoting, and enhancing the music and arts programs in all Scarsdale schools will be providing arts and crafts projects. The Scarsdale Police and Fire Vehicles will be present along with the Scarsdale Volunteer Ambulance Corps for tours and more.

“We are delighted to return as the presenting sponsor for the second annual Scarsdale Music Festival,” said Sandra L. Richards, Managing Director and Head of Global Sports and Entertainment at Morgan Stanley. “It’s an exciting time for the festival to return live this year – and a meaningful way for families and residents to celebrate the diversity and culture of the Westchester community through some good music performed by talented, local musicians for a great cause.”

The SBA is also thrilled to announce its continued partnership with the Scarsdale Conservation Advisory Council (CAC) to make the Scarsdale Music Festival a zero-waste event. Meals and snacks from food vendors will be served on compostable (made from plants) or recyclable serveware. The CAC will be providing bin stations with recycling and compost bins to keep any waste out of the trash. The goal is to have little to no trash from the event! Volunteers from the CAC and the community will be on hand at the bin stations to help and answer any questions. Scarsdale was the first municipality in Westchester County to launch a food scrap recycling program and the SBA is proud to support this community-wide effort by making SMF a zero-waste event! There will be food scrap recycling kits for sale for residents interested in joining the program!

The Scarsdale Music Festival will be donating a portion of proceeds to Feeding Westchester (feedingwestchester.org). Our donation will help fund their mission to ensure all people have access to the food they need.

“Thank you to the leaders of the Scarsdale Business Alliance for choosing Feeding Westchester as the beneficiary of this year’s Scarsdale Music Festival. We look forward to joining together with thousands of our neighbors on the festive day to both celebrate and nourish the community,” said Karen C. Erren, President & CEO of Feeding Westchester. “Together we are Feeding Westchester!”
